How is your holiday shopping going? Looking for gift ideas for new homeowners? Or a gift for that special handyman (or handywoman) in your life? Today, we have put together the best tool gifts for the handyman with input from our DIY community. I use the term "handyman" liberally, since these are great gifts for new homeowners, DIYers, and generally things that so are so useful in even small repairs around the home. These items were chosen for their broad range of uses, affordability, and because they are the tools we wish we had when we started our remodeling. I have linked to all of our recommendations on what models we use in our own home (or wish we had!)

MICRO JIG GRR-RIPPER

Nothing is more important than safety in a workshop. Nothing. For the woodworker or anyone who has a table saw, router table, jointer or bandsaw, the GRR-RIPPER is a must own. It eliminates sniping and dangerous kickback. It also gives more lot more control over handling small pieces while keeping your hands protected. After an episode a few months ago where our table-saw grabbed a piece of wood and flung it at me, I won't use any table-saw without this. The GRR-Ripper is the #1 most wished for table saw accessory and with good reason.
